DOMINYKAS SIMANAVICIUS

DEVELOPER

During my life, I've occupied various roles, with a significant portion dedicated to volunteering in the social sector. I pursued studies in French, Philosophy, and Theology, culminating in a master's degree obtained in Switzerland. Recently, I completed a formal JavaScript programmer program at the Baltic Institute of Technology. Currently, I work as a junior developer, where I not only apply the knowledge acquired during my studies but also delve into more sophisticated backend programming methods, continually expanding my skill set.
